

Bad question, Good Question_{By}

YourNotLuis

A lot of people just do not know how to contact someone and actually get them to respond. So here is your one-stop shop guide on how to ask Questions and how to start conversations that actually lead somewhere.

Contacting Someone

When DMing someone, many people, including me, now use Message Requests, which means you go into a secondary inbox, for which we DO NOT GET NOTIFIED. So it is really important for you to get to your point without needing an answer. Just sending someone "Yo" will not get you an answer. So here is a form of template!

Hello, I am currently working on [Project] and I am looking for [Their Occupation] to join me and help me with [what you need help with].**

Hey, I saw you offered [Service they Offer] in [Place where you saw it]. I am looking for [what you need] within [the timeframe you need it in]. Could you do that for [Price Expectation]? Thanks!**

Asking a Question

For this, I will make it Simple...

Bad Question: "I need help with my video, can someone VC and help?"

Good Question: "Hey, I am currently struggling with this [insert reference video or similar] effect for my video, can someone join the VC and help me? I can't get the [ACTUAL thing ur struggling with, like a shake or fade out or wtv] to look right**"

And boom, you have asked a good Question! There is also an entire [Website]
(<https://dontasktoask.com/>) made just on this Topic
